

TRADE MARK NURSE SELLS HER EXPERIENCE WITH DR. GREENE'S NERVURA

TRAINED NURSE, MRS. ANNIE G. DUGGAN.

Mrs. Annie G. Duggan, of 6 St. Charles Street, Boston, Mass., for fifteen years has been employed as a nurse in the Boston Hospital. Her reputation in her profession is of the highest, and her opinion, that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy will cure rheumatism and sciatica, is therefore worthy of the greatest consideration.

Mrs. Duggan says: "I was troubled with sciatica for over four months, and was treated by three different physicians, but received no relief. As a last resort my friends advised my trying Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, which I did, and in six weeks I was a well woman. Although it was four years ago I have had no return of the trouble."

"My sister also was troubled with rheumatism, and I advised her to try Dr. Greene's Nervura, which she did, and received great relief from it. I consider Dr. Greene's Nervura a godsend to me, and gladly recommend it."

Rheumatism is a blood disease. The circulation is impaired, and the blood becomes stagnant and impure. Dr. Greene's Nervura cures rheumatism by restoring normal conditions, so that a moderate use of the remedy will cause the disease to disappear. Of purely vegetable origin, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy acts in concert with natural laws and produces its permanent effect by feeding and enriching the blood supply. It is an ideal tonic when run down or exhausted, and nothing can exceed its inherent power to cure the lingering diseases that wreck the lives and hopes of men and women. Dr. Greene was many years discovering and perfecting the medicine which was finally offered to the world as Nervura, and his earnest and skillful work has been demonstrated by the record of cure which this remedy has made during many years.

If there is anything about your case you do not understand, write to Dr. Greene, 101 Fifth Avenue, New York City. His advice is free.

TRANSIT COMPANY TRAY SUPPLY POWER

Direct Current Needed to Operate World's Fair Intramural Railroad.

SIX CARS NOW FINISHED.

Passenger Agents Will Be the First Persons to Inspect Exposition Site From Elevated Tramway.

Negotiations are in progress between the World's Fair management and the St. Louis Transit Company to obtain power for operating the intramural railroad from the power plants of the street railway company. If satisfactory arrangements can be made, it is said, the power will be turned into the Exposition grounds as soon as the intramural road is completed.

The reason for engaging outside power is that the big 1,000-horse power Westinghouse engine in Machinery Hall does not furnish the proper kind of current for running cars. Direct current is needed for this purpose, and the Westinghouse engine supplies an alternating current.

According to E. B. Elliott, acting chief electrical engineer, the engines in Machinery Hall would supply more than enough power to operate two such roads as the intramural. If it were of the right character for the service, Transformers, which might change the current, would require too long a time to install.

The entire thirteen miles of the intramural railroad are completed save the half mile of heavy timber trestle leading from Government Hill to the level of the main piers. No such trestle has been laid on this section, and considerable timbering still remains to be done.

In the course of the week nineteen carloads of steel rails reached the Exposition grounds for use in completing the road. To-day six of the intramural cars will be delivered on the grounds by the St. Louis Car Company, which is building the equipment. These cars have a capacity of six passengers each.

ADVISES MORE GUARDS FOR WORLD'S FAIR VICINITY.

St. Louis County Grand Jury Declares Citizens Are Not Adequately Protected.

The January Grand Jury made its final report to Judge McElhinney in the St. Louis County Circuit Court at Clayton yesterday. Nine true bills and one ignored bill were returned. Of the indictments were given one and four withheld, because the alleged offenders had not been apprehended.

In its report special attention was called to the inadequate police protection of the county in the district around the World's Fair. It was recommended that the County Court immediately appoint additional judges to protect the county citizens from "almost daily assaults and robberies," and that the St. Louis County Circuit Court be provided with a set of Missouri Supreme and Appellate Court reports.

It was recommended that an assistant jailer be appointed to the county jail, and that the jail be provided with a set of Missouri Supreme and Appellate Court reports.

especially fine representation. It will have displays in six of the big exhibit palaces, and Mr. de Oliveira has been commissioned to erect a national pavilion for the country which will have representation in the Art Palace which will compare favorably with that of Europe's countries.

The other four Republics will be represented, and have already collected exhibits. Revolutions and financial and political troubles, however, will prevent their participation on as large a scale as Argentina. The republics, however, have served to upset the participation plans of that country.

INSTITUTES SUIT FOR SEPARATION.

St. Louis Girl Alleges That Rich Colorado Husband Deserted Her Soon After Marriage.

A suit for separation and maintenance, filed in the District Court of Colorado Springs yesterday, brings to light the unhappy matrimonial experience of Mrs. Mabel K. Giddings, who was Miss Mabel L. Knox of St. Louis.

According to the petition and the statement of Mrs. Giddings' attorneys, she met Roy W. Giddings in St. Louis in the summer of 1901. His father is a Colorado millionaire, whose principal business interests were in Colorado Springs, where his son was associated with him.

Young Giddings was very devoted and pressed his suit with such fervor that they were married in Clayton, July 31, 1901. He was 24 years of age, and she was 23. He had no previous wife, and she had never been married.

During the brief time that they lived together, and since, the petition states, Mrs. Giddings conducted herself as a faithful, loving and obedient wife. He left her on the pretense that he was going to see a sick sister, and since his departure has been without her, it is alleged.

Giddings has made himself very prominent in the social life of Colorado since the separation, the petition asserts, and has even become engaged to a young lady of that city.

Mrs. Giddings had endeavored to secure some means of support from her husband, but he refused to provide for her, and she has been forced to support herself. Both her parents are dead, and she has no relatives to assist her.

A short time ago Giddings' parents discovered by accident that their son was married, and immediately came to St. Louis to see the young wife. She had employed Carter & Baker of the Southern building. They were not able to reach an agreement as to the provision to be made for the wife, and the matter was referred to the court.

On January 13 young Giddings decided to leave St. Louis, but in St. Louis he started for St. Louis. Mrs. Giddings started for St. Louis with her attorney, W. P. Carter, and arrived in St. Louis on January 13.

Arthur N. Carter, who is associated with Mr. Carter, said last night that he presumed, from the facts of the suit, had been instituted, that no amicable arrangement could be made, and that his partner had commenced action.

Mrs. Giddings asked, but said that he considered her demand for a divorce, considering her financial situation, and that Mrs. Giddings does not ask for divorce, but for separation and maintenance.

POLICEMAN GIVES HIS NAME TO ABANDONED BOY BABY.

Patrolman Calvin White of the Fourth District has found a baby abandoned by its mother in the office of the Fourth District Station, gave the baby his name and had it christened at St. Ann's.

The baby, a nine-day-old boy, was turned over to the police by James O'Brien of No. 1314 O'Fallon street. He told the police that a young woman had left the baby in the office of the Fourth District Station, and that he had found it.

When Patrolman White requested the sisters at the asylum to name the child, they refused to do so. According to the custom of the church it would have to bear a saint's name, and it was decided to name the child after the patrolman.

PLETHORA OF RADIUM IN UNITED STATES.

Princeton Professor Says American Ore Supply Is Practically Inexhaustible.

PRICE TO BE MUCH CHEAPER.

Believed That Supply of Material Will Place Wonderful Subsidy in Reach of All Branches of Science.

New York, Jan. 22.—Announcement recently made at a meeting of the Technology Club, that radium had been extracted from American ores, has brought from Professor Alexander H. Phillips of Princeton University, who conducted the experiments, the statement that this latest discovery by scientists will soon be so plentifully produced in the United States as to be within easy reach of all branches of science. The ore used in the experiments came from Utah.

"The specimen was between twenty-five and fifty pounds in weight," said Professor Phillips. "It was not the pitch blonde used by the Curies in the manufacture of the French radium. It was carmine, an ore of canary color, containing, as I found after experimenting with it, oxide of uranium and vanadium combined with other oxides that produce radium."

"In so extracting the radium I used the Curie method, which I took from their paper, and I claim no credit for it."

"As a result of this first extraction of American radium, arrangements have been made by certain persons in Buffalo, who own several mines of canary ore, to manufacture radio-active agents on a large scale, and in my opinion, it will soon be so plentiful that it will easily be within the reach of all branches of science. The increased production will naturally decrease its cost, and there need be no fear of exhausting the American source of supply, for I am informed it is practically limitless."

"There is not the slightest doubt but American radium can be made as strong as the Curie product and equally available for all scientific purposes."

IRON SHIFTS THE BLAME.

Harry J. Powers Says Will J. Davis Is Actually in Control of Theater.

DAVIS ACCUSES EMPLOYEES.

Says He Expected Men He Paid to Do Their Full Duty—Admits Ignorance of City's Building Laws.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—Will J. Davis and Harry J. Powers, managers of the Iroquois Theater, made their appearance before the Coroner's jury to-day.

Neither of the gentlemen was disposed to accept any responsibility in connection with defective construction, faults of management, or neglect to provide proper fire protection.

Mr. Powers placed the responsibility for the management of the theater upon Mr. Davis, who was the active manager, while he was but passive in the conduct of its affairs. The blame for the fire, and the consequent loss of life, he put upon employees, who, he said, did not perform their full duty.

When it came the turn for Mr. Davis to testify, he refused to place the blame upon any particular person, but said he had confidence that the employees of the theater would attend to their business properly, and that he believed that the Fuller Construction Company would erect the building in compliance with the city ordinances.

Personally, he said, he knew nothing whatever of what the laws demanded in the construction of theaters, although he had been managing theaters in Chicago for twenty years. He had a general knowledge of what was necessary, but he had never read the city laws covering the construction and operation of theaters.
